Welcome to the Accelerator Documentation Center

Transparency and partnership are at the heart of Pall Biotech. We know that the availability of high quality product documentation helps you manage the vast amount of documentation required for regulatory submission. This portal collates all current documentation to help you navigate compliance quickly and efficiently, and the electronic regulatory dossiers help you in your ongoing risk assessments to help alleviate the pressures of preparing documentation for regulatory compliance and audits.

The Accelerator Documentation Center gives you direct access to the documents you need, for access to the Accelerator Regulatory Dossier just register here.

Accelerator Regulatory Dossier

The Accelerator Regulatory Dossier application is the central point of access for product specific regulatory and compliance documents, for all individual components used to manufacture AllegroSM single-use systems. It provides comprehensive and up-to-date documentation including product specifications, manufacturing information, validation documents, and compliance statements to support your risk assessment, regulatory submissions and audits. With a simplified document retrieval process and 24/7 access, the dossier is easy to navigate, and you can quickly locate all the documents that you need.
